

Showcase your Business at the Black Wall Street Marketplace

The Madison Black Chamber of Commerce is delighted to offer exhibitor space to Black-owned businesses on Thursday, Feb. 23, 2023 at the Monona Terrace.

The Black Wall Street Marketplace, featuring the official Black Wall Street Travelling Exhibit from the Tulsa Historical Museum & Society, will be held from 2–6pm in the Community Terrace. Showcasing a curated collection of local entrepreneurs, artists, & merchants, the Marketplace is an ode to the Black Excellence of the historic Greenwood District; a time & place defined by Black strength, resiliency, pride, & success.

We invite YOU to sell your exceptional products & services at this prestigious event. Businesses of all types, excluding food & drink providers, are welcome to exhibit.

Here are the details:

- The Chamber will provide you with a six-foot skirted table (or you can bring your own table, black tablecloths preferred). You are encouraged to bring your own display signs, banners & other décor. Electricity will not be provided.
- Due to the venue restrictions at Monona Terrace, you may not sell foods or beverages for on-site consumption.
- Vendors are responsible for set up & tear down of booths.
- Set up is from noon-2 pm. You must staff your table from 2-6pm.
- After Marketplace closes, join us at the ticketed, black-tie Madison Black Gala for dinner, dancing, the Black Business Awards, & two Black National Treasures:
 - Ms. Opal Lee, internationally renowned advocate & Nobel Peace Prize nominee
 - Mr. Ron Busby, Sr., the President & CEO of the US Black Chamber of Commerce
- Registered vendors are eligible to purchase up to two (2) discounted tickets to the black-tie event through the Vendor-only Madison Black Gala Special.
- Parking is not included in vendor fees.

Take advantage of this opportunity to gain exposure for your business & make money – we expect hundreds from the community to attend, including our largest supporters.

Space is LIMITED. Sign up by February 10th at madisonblackgala.com OR send this form along with a check to 618 S. Park St., Madison, WI 53713
